MANAGER PHILLIPS AFTER MEN.

A New Local Baseball League Organized With Six Clubs.

GENERAL BASEBALL NEWS OF THE DAY

Once more victory fell to the share of the unfortunate ball team known as the Pitts burgs yesterday. Cleveland was beaten 5 to 4. Galvin pitched. Manager Phillips is skirmishing for more players. A new local baseball league, taking in six suburban clubs, was organized in the city yesterday. Philadelphia defeated New York for the third successive time.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCE. CLEVELAND, July 24.-Cleveland had the game won from Pittsburg up to the ninth inning this afternoon, when the "tough luck" that has existed for miserable Pittsburg for many weeks past suddenly transferred itself to the erstwhile Babies and dragged them down to unexpected defeat. It was a hard game to lose, and when the end came neither audience nor the players could realize for a moment that victory had been snatched from their hands at the very goal. Bakely has himself to thank in a large measure for the outcome of the game. At several critical periods he was extremely careless, and this very carelessness cost not less than four runs, as will be seen further on. Wes Curry gave satisfaction to everyone, and hi blunder in the ninth of miscalling a ball drew down upon him the anathemas of the crowd, which numbered about 1,800. Outside of Tebeau, who had an off day, the Clevelands put up a fine fielding game. Their batting was also above the average, but the hits did not always come at the right time. THE DEACON WAS FIRST-CLASS.

Deacon White appeared at third base for the visitors and put up a first-class article of ball, He was vigorously applauded upon his first appearance at the bat, but Bakely kept the ball down too low for him to size it up to may extent. Cleveland started off quite briskly in the first inning. Jimmy Galvin couldn't get the first four balls over the plate and Stricker ambled to first base. A wild pitch advanced him to second and a sacrifice by McAleer and a hit by Gilks brought him home. Twitchell followed with a single, and it looked as though the Babies were going to make things lively for the aged "Jeems." Fortunately for him the next ball hit was where White could lay his hands on it and a neat double play ensued, Gilks being forced out at third and Faatz retired at first. In the third inning Stricker led off with a base hit which Knehne stopped. but threw wildly to first, allowing Cub to reach second base. McAleer drove him home with a cracking single to left. Gilks sent the ball between second and first, but unfortunately

IT HIT M'ALEER as he dashed down the line, and he was declared out. Gilks was given a safe hit, but it availed him little, for he was speedily thrown out at second. In the fourth, Faatz started ford fell victims to another double play, this time executed by Kuehne, Smith and Beckley. Zimmer distinguished himself in the fifth by lining the ball nearly to the left field fence-a hit that was easily good for three bases. Stricker's baser to left scored him, the former going to second on White's wild throw. Although McAleer sacrificed again, Stricker couldn't get home, for Miller, by quick foot work and good judgment, nailed Gilks' high foul fly, and thus retired the side. Twitchell smashed the ball far into left field for two bases, and Faatz followed with a sacrifice, but no additional hits were forthcoming and Larry tarried on third. The seventh and eighth innings were uneventful so far 2s Cleveland was concerned. One, two, three order was on the programme, but in the ninth the Babies started in to clinch what they suppose i was already a sure thing.

SOME LIVELY WORK.

Fastz hit a liner directly at Smith, and fattened up that player's fielding average. Radford's ugly bounding grounder got away from Smith, Tebeau hit into deep short, and al-though Kuehne got the ball, he went into a trance and allowed Radford to make second. Zimmer flew out to Fields, but Bakely, who has been batting in good form of late, found the been hatting in good form of late, found the ball for a single, scoring Radford. With two men on bases there was an excellent epening for a two-bagger, home run or something on that order, but Stricker couldn't fix at that way, and a hard-hit ball to Smith forced Bakely out at second, and settled Cleveland's chances for adding to her score. Subsequent proceed-ings showed that an extra run or two would not have come in amiss. The proverbial Pittsburg have come in amiss. The proverbial Pittsburg luck hovered over the visitors for two or three innings. In the third, with but one hand out, Hanlou and Beckly hit safely, while Tebeau presented Miller with a life at first by passing his grounder. It looked ominous for Cleveland, but at this juncture Maul batted the ball directly at Eakely, who threw Hanlou out at the rectly at Pakely, who threw Hanlon out at the plate. Zimmer completed a lightning double play by passing the ball to Faatz in time to catch Maul.

JOCKO DOES SOME HITTING.

In the fourth Fields made a two-base hit. Ruehne sacrificed and Smith was given a base on balls, but still Pittsburg couldn't score. The next inning, however, broke the ice. Han-Ion made a lucky single to left, was advanced a base by Miller's safe hit, and scored on sacri-fices by Beckley and Maul. The next two fices by Beckley and Maul. The next two innings netted them nothing. In the eighth Colonel Bakely donated one large run to the visitora. It did not look very big at the time, but a few minutes later it got in its work on the home team with fatal effect. It was too bad for Maul and White had just been doubled up, after the former had hit safely past Tebeau. Fields found a ball to his liking and hit it clean to the fence. While he lingered on third lakely pitched the ball about a foot over Zimmor's head and permitted him to complete the circuit. Kuehne struck out a moment later so the run was a pure gift. When Pittaburg came to the bat in the ninth inning the score was four to two against them, and few expected that they would even tie it, let alone make enough to win. But baseball is FULL OF UNCERTAINTIES. was evidenced by the course of events. the third one somewhere out in the field. He didn't know where it went, but kept on rundidn't know where it went, but kept on running and was very much surprised to find when he arrived there that he had made a two-base hit. Hanlon hit over the pitcher's head, and, although Gilks made a fine stop of it, he did not have time to throw the runner out at first base. It was a close decision, however, and many thought the man out. Miller then came to the bat. After several balls had been caffed and one or two fouls batted around the grounds, the little catcher swung at the ball and missed. "One strike!" called Curry. A bowl arose from the audience, "Three strikes." Faatz came in to argue the point. Curry showed him his indicator and declared that he was right, and as Bakely did not dispute the point, it was yielded. Miller immediately thereafter sacrificed, scoring Galvin. Beckley drove the ball into left field, and things looked squally for Cleveland.

WHERE WE WON.

down toward Gilks the audience breathed more freely, for it looked like a sure out. Gilks thought so himself, and had his hands all ready for the hall, when it took a sudden bound and went over his head far into center field. Before it could be returned both Hanlon and Beckley had scored, and the game was lost. The audience could hardly realize it, and Zimmer stood on the plate as if in a dream. There was a cry of "robber" as Curry walked toward the dressing room. The crowd, who did not understand the situation, believed that Cleveland had been robbed of the game. The truth was that Curry had called the first ball pitched a ball, and on the second ball, a high and wide one, he sa'led "two strikes" by mistake instead of two balls. Then came the interim, and when Miller struck at a good ball and Curry declared it one strike there was a kick, the crowd simply remembering having beard two strikes called before. Curry was mixed up, but Cleveland lost nothing by it. Score:

SKIRMISHING AGAIN. Manager Phillips After More Young Blood-

Manager Phillips will start out on another hunt for players to-day, his territory being Ohio. He will not be home until to-morrow, when he and President Nimick will have a conference with Speer, the promising local catcher. Speer met Mr. Nimick yesterday afternoon, and after an exchange of opinions it was agreed to make no definite arrangements until to-morrow morning, when Manager Phillips will be home.

As stated in yesterday's DISPATCH, the club officials are still on the lookout for more new players, and it is surmised that Manager Phillips' mission to-day is to try and secure a pitcher. Every effort is to be made to get one or two good pithers, and the club is prepared to keep on making experiments until a good man is signed. Speaking on the subject last evening, President Nimick said:

"We are not downhearted by any means, although luck has been against us. We are prepared to put up the cash for good men, but as to who we are after I'm not prepared to say. I would have liked to have signed Gilliland, but Philadelphia has secured him. However, I am confident that we have gotten a good pitcher in Sowders. Boston did not sell him because he was no good. He was dissatisfied, and the club took a big price for him. I can assure the public that I paid a big sum for him."

"Are you going to release any pitchers?"

"West! I would rather not make a statement assure the public that I paid a big sum for him."

"Well, I would rather not make a statement on that question. At any rate, I may say that the directors will settle that matter."

It is definitely understood that one or two pitchers of the tcam, and one of them an old one, will be dispensed with at the end of the scason. When interrogated definitely on the matter, Mr. Nimick merely said that the directors would settle the question.

Sowders will pitch to-day and Manager Phillips writes that he is in first-class condition. The true cause of his dissatisfaction with Boston was learned yesterday. When Boston got Sowders from Sa. Paul they gave him a saiary of $2,000 and a bouns of $300. For this season, however, they would only give him $2,000, claiming that that was his salary last year and that the $800 was a present. He objected and was classified. He then became highly dissatisfied and has incessantly been wanting his release. After Mr. Nimick offered something over $2,000 for his release Boston parted with him.

To-Day's Home Game. The local club will return home to-day and tackle the Cievelands at Recreation Park. Sowders and Miller will be the bome battery and probably Gruber and Snyder will represent the visitors. Rowe will likely be absent on ac-count of his wire's illness, and White will be at third with Kuehne short and Smith second.

ther local baseball league has been organized to play a schedule of games during the balance of the season. Yesterday afternoon a meeting was held, and a league organized under the name of the Pittsburg Suburban Baseball League. It is composed of the following six clubs: Mt. Washington Athletics, Shadysides, clubs: Mt. Washington Athletics, Shadysides, Craftons, Superiors, Sewickley Juniors and the Electrics. The intention is to play ten games each, chiefly on Saturdays. The teams are considered to be pretty well matched, and if that is so they are good ones, because the Mt. Washingtons are good players. The complete schedule was not made out yesterday, but it will be finished during this week. Following is the schedule for three games each:

July 27—Shadysides vs Electrics at Shadyside; Superiors vs Sewickleys at Sewickley; Mt. Washingtons vs Craftons, postponed.

August 3—Shadysides vs Superiors at Superior: Mt. Washingtons vs Erafton.

August 10—Mt. Washingtons vs Shadysides at Shadyside; Craftons vs Superiors, at Superior; Sewickleys vs Electrics, at Sewickley.

Manager Henington's Statement. The following letter explains itself: To the Sporting Editor of the Dispatch:

I notice in your paper this morning that we (the Scottdale Baseball Club) refused to make a match with McKeesport as per agreement. Manager Quinn offered to play our club three games for $100 per game, but we refused becase he would not name his men, as we would name it men and allow him to do the same. Now, if we wisn to play the County League clubs we will challenge them, but we don't propose to play McKeesport and silow them the choice of the league. Now, whenever they are prepared to name it men we will meet them at THE DISPATCH office and sign articles.

WALTER HENINGTON, Manager.

Ex-President Howell, of the Wheeling ball club, was in the city yesterday. Speaking of the prospects of the club, he said: "I think the prospects of the club, he said: "I think we'll get the Sunday games all right. We play Canton next Sunday, and I'm confident that no true bill will be found against the players. At any rate, we are confident of playing Sunday games during the balance of the season. If the Sunday law is enforced almost everything will be stopped in Wheeling."

OBJECTED TO THE STARTER.

The Bookmakers Make a Protest at the St. PAUL, MINN., July 24.—The co

of the bright and cool weather is one of the prime factors which figures in the success of the first meeting of the Twin City Jockey Club that is now assured. Attendance about 7,000; track in fairly good condition. First race, selling, purse $400, for 8-year-olds and upward, six furlongs-St. Leger got away in the lead; at the quarter Bonair was in the lead, Charlotte J second; at the half Argenta assumed the lead, and won by two lengths, Charlotte J second, Bonair third. Time, 1:15%. Second race, selling, purse $400, for 3-year-olds, seven-eighths of a mile—They were set off promptly to a good start, with Lotion in the lead, Bonnie King second and Alphonse third. These positions were retained throughout, Lotion winning easily by a length, Bonnie King second and Alphonse third. Time, 1:294.

Third race, purse $500, for 2-year olds, five-eighths of a mile—Miss Belle was given three lengths the best of the start and maintained the lead throughout, winning in a gallop by two open lengths, Alarm Bell and Abliene were lapped in second and third place at the finish. Time, 1:20%.

London, July 24.—The game between the Marleybone club and the Philadelphia cricketers was concluded to-day. Owing to the heavy rain of yesterday the wicket was in poor condition. The Americans made a weak display against the bowling of Grace and Nepean. They finished their first inning with a score of 255 against 383. In the second inning they were only able to make 64, and were beaten by an inning and 84 runs.

London, July 24.—The race for the Gerard plate for 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs, was won by Mr. Rose's Beldemonio, Brydger William's Miser Davis second and Lord Calthorpe's Herey third. The race for the Crozteth plate, for 3-year-olds and upward, 5 furlongs, was won by Humphrey Rausford's Master Charlie, Brydger William's Sancy Lass second and J. H. Houldesworth's Ixia third. There were eight 'storters.

Grant White, the pedestriau, called at this office yesterday and left the following definite challenge: "I will give McNally, of Frankstown, 3½ yards start in 100; Sourbrine, two yards; halarky, one yard: or I will run Sheehan or Herman Smith on even terms. Either of the above matches can be made for $250 a side. An answer through THE DISPATCH will receive attention."

There will be a good day's sport at the Mans field Driving Park to-morrow. Three purse races, two trotting matches and a three-mile foot race against time by E. C. McClelland are on the card. The classes for the horse racing are: 2:40 trot, 2:40 pace, 3:00 trot. About a dozen Pittsburg horses are entered.

Schnefer and Ives in Town-They Issue Big Challenges.

Jacob Schaefer, the champion billiard player of America, and Frank Ives, another famous player, arrived in the city last evening from the West en route to the East. The "Wizard" was looking well, and talked freely about billiard affairs. He said:

"We are traveling East to fill a few engagements at Boston, Saratoga, Philadelphia and other places. However, my principal object is to try and get on a match with Slosson for $5,000 a side. I am anxious to play Mr. Slosson, and I wish him to come to time and not talk so much."

and I wish him to come to time and not talk so much."

Mr. Ives, during a conversation, said: "The stories to the effect that Schaefer is drinking are all false. He is drinking no more now than he ever did, but I can assure you that he is a better billiard player now than ever. When we arrive in New York Schaefer will challenge Slosson and I will challenge Carter or any other man in the world, bar Schaefer and Slosson. I will force Carter to play me or give up the medal he holds."

Speaking of Carter's defeat of Vignaux, Ives said: "I attach little importance to it. A game of 100 points at billiards is worth nothing. Carter cannot beat Vignaux and he knows it. Why, the Frenchman is conceding him 20 per cent start in their long games and beating him at that. I presume Carter cabled the news of his alleged victory to this country himself. If Schaefer and myself cannot get single matches we will play any two men in the world for a big stake."

Latrobe Defeats the Homestend Champion by 11 to 5. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 LATROBE, PA., July 24.-The home seam turned the tables on the Homestead club this afternoon, defeating them by a score of 11 to 5. A Dew and Hess, who were released by the home team a short time ago, occupied the points for the visitors. La Dew was hit hard, but his support was ragged at critical momenta. Keyser pitched a fine game for the home club, and was well supported. The features of the game were the battery work of Keyser and Schoyer, the batting of Schoyer and the fine fielding of Showalter. He made a fine running catch of La Dew's line hit. The umpiring of Zachariah was the finese exhibition given on the home grounds this season. Score:

CIVIL SERVICE OFFENSE.

The Commission Discovers That at Least the Law's Spirit Has Saffered. WASHINGTON, July 24 -Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt said to-day that charges have been brought against both the Pension Office and the Second Auditor's Office that men have been discharged because they were Democrats. He was not prepared to say that this was a violation of the law, but individually he was firmly of the opinion that it was in violation of the spirit of the law. He thought that no one, unless he happened to be an active partisan, should be dismissed from the public service.

He said that the commission was going to look the matter up, not only as relating to the present but to the past.

In speaking of the matter further, Mr. Roosevelt said that in the Baltimore postoffice it was charged that there had been a clean sweep and out of the 350 men em-ployed there were now only 11 Republicans He thought that this was wrong and ought

RIVAL CITIES OF THE NORTHWEST. Minneapolis Insists That It is Bigger Than

St. Paul.

That the jealousy between St. Paul and Minneapolis, so often humorously alluded to by the press of this country, is based on actual fact, is evidenced by the following telegram, which explains itself: MINNEAPOLIS, July 24, 1889.

To The Pittsburg Dispatch:

MINNEAPOLIS, July 24, 1822.

To The Pittsburg Dispatch:

As sensational telegrams have been sent to the leading papers of the country by an irresponsible St. Paul correspondent concerning the directories for 1889 for Minneapolis and St. Paul, I desire to ask these same papers which have published the falsehood from St. Paul to publish the truth from Minneapolis, which I send prepaid.

The directory of St. Paul was issued on the 15th inst. It contained 74,000 names, an increase of over 4,000 over 1888. The Minneapolis directory was issued to-night and contains 33,000 names, an increase of nearly 5,500 over 1888. According to the multiple used during the State census of 1885, St. Paul has 185,000 population. By the same multiple Minneapolis contains 23,000 people, showing Minneapolis to be in the lead by 45,000 people. This directory estimate is confirmed by other statistics. Minneapolis cast 28,000 votes for President in November, 1889, while St. Paul cast but 26,000. Minneapolis has 19,000 school children enrolled upon her books, while St. Paul has but 15,000 enrolled. The taxable valuation of Minneapolis exceeds $122,000,000. While St. Paul's scarcely reaches $165,000.000. The twin cities of the Northwest unioubtedly have 450,000 population, but Minneapolis leads St. Paul by more than 40,000. Alders J. Bleffer.

COOLEY TO SUCCEED FINK.

A Report That the Railroads Will Capture the Inter-State Commission. CHICAGO, July 24 .- A local paper says: A report is current that the trunk lines are making strong efforts to secure the services of Chairman Cooley, of the Inter-State Commission, as Commissioner of Trank Lines' Association in place of Albert Fink, whose resignation was accepted about a month ago. It is believed that he is considering the advisability of accepting the $25,000 position. He is at present on a trip to the Pacific coast. Should Judge Cooley decide to accept, some people will be curious to know how he will harmonize such action with his previously expressed opinion that it was the height of impropriety for a man holding a place on the Inter-State Commerce Commission to accept any position from the railroads. Should they succeed in inducing him to take the position, however, they will have succeeded in capturing two of the brightest and ablest men on the Inter-State Commission—the Judge himself and A. F. Walker, now at the head of the famous "Gentlemen's" Association. A STRAWBOARD TRUST. It is Capitalized at $6,000,000, to Give Prefits to Manufacturers.

HINGHAM, MASS., July 24.—Part of the silver which was stolen from the house of ex-Governor Long during the recent robbery in this town has been returned. Saturday a package arrived by mail containing three spoons—one large one and two small ones. The package was postmarked "Boston," and the address was in print instead of writing. In one corner and on the outside of the package was the name "B. F. Butler."

Mr. Long regards the returning of the spoons partly as a joke and partly as a kindness, as it was stated in the Boston papers at the time the theft was committed that the spoons were valued by Mr. Long, as the two small ones belonged to his mother and the large one to his wife. The name of "B. F. Butler" on the package is also regarded as a joke.

A PENSION DENIED.

Queer Ground on Which an Indiana Man Asked a Part of the Surplus. WASHINGTON, July 24.-Assistant Secretary Bussey has rendered a decision in the case of John Seifert, late of Company A, Forty-ninth Indiana Volunteers, who moved for a reconsideration of a former de-cision rejecting his claim to an invalid pension. The testimony upon which the Assistant Secretary appears to rely, concerning the cause and circumstances attending the incurrence of the disability are substan-tially as follows: The captain of claimant's company and three others had rented for the night the back room of a saloon, and were engaged in playing cards when three citizens of the town entered and began playing on a banjo and one or two other instruments. This disturbed the play and the ristruments. This disturted the play and the captain, speaking to his comrades, among whom was the calmant, who had just entered, said: "Boys, let's put them out." At that all arose and the intruders moved toward the door, all except one man named Bishop, who lingered. The claimant put his hand on Bishop's shoulder and then Bishop moved out. As he passed, claimant turned his back, and as he did so Bishop shot him inflicting two wounds, on account of which he claims a pension. The claimant in his testimony avers that he was in the room in obedience to his captain's orders, and that the part he took in ejecting the intruders was also in obedience to his commands.

The Assistant Secretary decides that the captain's order was not within the line of duty, was an order to commit a breach of peace, and the claimant was not justified in obeying it any more than he would have been justified in doing any other unlawful act. His being in the saloon was a violation of rules of discipline. The application
